THE DIOCESE OF SHEFFIELD

The Archbishop of Canterbury is calling all Christians to take part in a time of prayer leading up to Pentecost:

"...we long to see a great wave of prayer across our land, throughout the Church of England and many other Churches."

"The dream is this: imagine every Anglican, perhaps even every Christian, in this nation praying that prayer together with the specific intention that all may come to know Jesus as Lord."

"Evangelism is the work of God, and it begins as we seek him in prayer. It is good for the Church to pray."

10 DAYS OF PRAYER

Thursday, 5th - Sunday, 15th May

10 Days of Prayer 2016

Each year for the past six years Bishop Steven has led and encouraged the Diocese to pray individually and together in the time between Ascension and Pentecost (10 Days of Prayer). This year this time coincides with the Archbishop of Canterbury, Justin Welby, writing to every Parish in the Church of England, inviting them also to join together in a time of prayer for the evangelisation of our nation.

The focus for our prayers as a Diocese during this time is:

- for all Christians to deepen their relationship with Jesus, so that we may have confidence to share our faith;
- that all may respond to the call of Jesus Christ to follow Him.

Why not pray each day for one of the seven disciplines of evangelisation, praying that they will grow in the place where you live?

- The discipline of prayerful discernment and listening (contemplation).
- The discipline of apologetics (defending and commending the faith).
- The discipline of evangelism (initial proclamation of the Good News).
- The discipline of catechesis (learning and teaching the faith).
- The discipline of formation (growing the community of the church).
- The discipline of planting and forming new communities (fresh expressions of the church).
- The discipline of incarnational mission (following the pattern and life of Jesus).

The Spirituality of Evangelism:
The rock upon which our proclamation of the Good News is built, is in and through our prayers to God.

Praying through some thoughts about evangelism;

‘There’s something about being a part of the Body of Christ, as people who worship, as people of Scripture and sacrament, which equips us to be neighbours to others and creators of new community.’

‘When Jesus talked to the woman at the well, he broke a lot of rules and social boundaries to give her some new news, unexpected news. She went away, a new evangelist, and told everyone about it. What would it take to help people meet Jesus Christ at the wells of today’s society.’

‘Perhaps we need a better, more holistic theology of evangelism to see where people’s whole lives, as children, as young people, as adults and as older people, equip us to share our faith more widely and more appropriately, no matter where we have come from or what we have done.’

‘What does it really mean to be the face of God’s Love? What would it take for people really to trust us, to find the hope we carry and be drawn to God because of that faith, hope and love?’

(These thoughts are those of Dr Anne Richards, National Adviser: mission theology, and are taken from the Report of the Archbishop’s Evangelism Task Group to the General Synod 2015.)

Bishop Steven

“Over the last six years, the Ten Days of Prayer has been a highlight of our Diocesan calendar: each year we seek to centre our lives again on God’s life and love and pray together for our communities and for our wider world. This year we are following the theme and call of the Archbishops to pray together for the sharing of the gospel within our nation. One of the real strengths of the Ten Days is that every church and parish prays in a different way. But please do pray that many across our Diocese and across our country will discover and rediscover the riches of the Christian gospel and the joy of knowing Jesus Christ”

And Jesus came and said to them, “All authority in heaven and on earth has been given to me. Go therefore and make disciples of all nations, baptising them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, and teaching them to obey everything that I have commanded you. And remember, I am with you always, to the end of the age.” Matthew 28 v19-20
