

Come and sing
Requiem* - Maurice Duruflé
and other music for choir and organ, accompanied by Darius Battiwalla

SATURDAY 19TH OCTOBER 2024
ST JOHN'S CHURCH, RANMOOR

The choir of St John's Church, Ranmoor, conducted by Philip Collin, will be joined by singers from all around Sheffield and beyond to perform Duruflé's sublime requiem, accompanied on the magnificent Brindley and Foster organ by Darius Battiwalla.

The first half of the concert will feature the sopranos and altos singing Francis Poulenc's masterpiece Litanies à la vierge noire and the tenors and basses singing Arvo Pärt's meditative De Profundis.

There will be a day of workshops and rehearsals starting at 11am leading to a concert performance in the evening.

If you have sung any of the works before, or read music reasonably well and would like to participate, please e-mail music@stjohnsranmoor.org.uk for more information and/or to sign up.

The cost for taking part will be just £15, payable on the day.

If you would rather come and listen, the performance will begin at 7.30.

Tickets for the concert (priced £10) will be available on the door.
